WAR BRIDE CAPTURED

SO-CALLED WAR BRIDE LACE FRAUD ARTIST CAPTURED IN GLENDALE

In last Tuesday's issue of the Evening News was published an article in which Glendale people were asked to keep watch for a woman, dressed in black and masquerading as an "Irish war bride," who was selling imitation imported Irish lace. She had fleeced patrons in Pomona, Claremont, Ontario and other nearby towns and had called at a number of homes in Casa Verdugo Monday.

Thursday morning shortly after 9 o'clock the Glendale police department received a telephone message from Mrs. N. E. Luce of 326 North Maryland that a young woman answering the description of the war bride lace swindler had just called at her home.

Chief Herald immediately responded to the call and found the lace solicitor and an older companion, apparently her mother, at work on North Maryland.

The women were brought to the police station, where they gave their names as Elizabeth and Mary Wilson. Upon being searched, however, papers in their possession proved their name to be Stuart.

They were tried before Judge Wholmes, and although their testimony was evasive, conflicting and misleading, the evidence proved that the women were the same who had operated in nearby towns. Each was fined five dollars, and after thumb marks had been obtained, they were ordered to leave town. They were not detained as there was no direct evidence to prove that they had made any actual sales in Glendale.

The story told was a most plausible one, and a woman was easily sold unless an expert judge of lace. The younger of the two women posed as a war bride, and claimed to have been married in Ireland at the beginning of the war, and said her husband was killed in the trenches. Wanting to get away from old associations, she and her mother left the old country for Canada, and later came to the United States, bringing a great quantity of Irish lace with them, much of which, they said, they had made themselves, as for generations back their family had been lace makers.

She sold lace for 75 cents and 85 cents a yard which, had it been real, would have retailed at $2 per yard. Upon examination, their laces were found to be clever imitations and worth from 8 cents to 25 cents per yard. The women were really Irish and talked with a brogue, and were rather poorly dressed in black, which made their story extremely plausible. From Thursday morning's occurence, however, they will give Glendale a wide berth in the future.

A FAREWELL SERVICE

Last Sunday was a notable day at the First Christian church of Glendale. Elder Harry E. Wilhite, whose magnetic gospel sermons have been the means under God of turning more than 30,000 sinners to Christ, filled the pulpit, and he made the service a sort of farewell to Dr. Dungan and his wife, who left the next day for Honolulu, Elder Wilhite coming out in his auto to take them to San Pedro, where they boarded the Yale for San Francisco, where they embarked Tuesday for Honolulu.

Dr. Dungan was Brother Wilhite's instructor in the Bible at Cotner university. He ordained him to preach the gospel and he united him in marriage with Miss Stella Mitchell. So there is a very tender feeling between the two men. It was arranged for the two to preside at the Lord's table that morning and their prayers commingled as they made ready the sacred elements in which the disciples of Christ commemorate each Lord's day the death and sufferings of the Savior of men.

It was an impressive sight, this teacher and pupil of nearly a quarter of a century agone, the one now feeble of step and white of hair, the other full of manly vigor, with hair still black as the raven's wing, and both with eyes alight with love for each other.

The sermon which followed was full of sweetness and power and the tender farewell at the close was most affecting.

Brother Wilhite will be with us again next Sunday, as will be announced later in these columns, to deliver in the morning his great "Charted Sermon on the Bible, or Key to the Scriptures," and in the evening his great address on "Mother, Home and Heaven." These wonderful sermons have thrilled thousands all over this land of ours and will be heard by many hundreds next Sunday in Glendale.

A BROTHER.

WAVE OF CRIME

THEFT OF AUTO AND TWO ATTEMPTED ROBBERIES ADD TO EXCITEMENT

At last the Glendale police have ample opportunity to prove what expert sleuths they are. Excitement in Glendale is rife.

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Eudemiller drove to the Christian Science church, at the corner of Maryland and Second, in their Ford touring car and parked the machine outside, but the car had completely vanished when it came time to drive home.

The number and description of the car have been reported to the police, but as yet no traces of it have been found.

It really seems that the Eudemillers are having more than their share of robberies, as while they were at the beach Sunday evening their millinery store was broken into and thoroughly ransacked. That the burglars or burglar was after money and money only was clearly indicated by the fact that while some valuable jewelry was in a trunk that was searched, none was found missing. As no money had been left in the store, the thief took nothing of value.

On Wednesday night, while on the beat on Brand boulevard, Officer Lawrence frightened away a would-be robber, who had just gained entrance to the Dew Drop Inn. On his arrival at the lunch room this morning, Charles Shropshire, the proprietor, found nothing missing, although he had quite a sum of money hidden in the room during the night.

Whether the series of robberies in Glendale the last few days is the work of professionals or amateurs has not yet been determined, but, although half a dozen places have been broken into, nothing of any consequence has been stolen.

BIRTHDAY LUNCHEON

Mrs. John Lyons of Vine street entertained at a luncheon for her mother, Mrs. A. H. Wightman, on Wednesday, November 15. A surprise was enjoyed by the guests when, at the last moment before being seated for luncheon, a huge birthday cake was added to the already bountifully laden table, and it was discovered to be the anniversary of Mrs. Wightman's natal day. Congratulations and best wishes were extended. The following ladies were present: Mrs. A. H. Wightman, Mrs. Salo Desky, Mrs. G. Phillips, Mrs. Perce Curtis, Miss Eva Daniels, Mrs. E. S. McKee, Mrs. Ira Gould, Mrs. Richardson, and the hostess, Mrs. John Lyons. The prize winners of the afternoon's games were Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. Richardson and Miss Daniels.

PLANT PARTY SOCIAL TONIGHT

This evening the monthly social meeting of the Glendale Garden society will be held in the library of the Third street school, Third and Jackson, at 8 o'clock sharp. Vocal solos have been kindly promised by Dr. H. R. Harrower and piano solos by H. G. Miller. Mrs. Abby La Gross will give an informal ten minute talk on dahlia culture. Mrs. J. L. Anderson, Mrs. B. F. Harrower and Miss Olive Williams will serve tea. All of these ladies and gentlemen are members of the Garden society.

The social is open to the public; everybody invited, nothing to pay. Friends and members are asked to come early, even before 8 o'clock, in order that introductions may be made and a regular get-together time enjoyed.

Another attractive feature of the evening will be the plant party. Everybody who can may bring a plant or plants; then everybody takes away a plant. One member is bringing two penstemon plantlings; another will bring a few pansy plants. What will you bring? The plants, bulbs, etc., will all be placed together and then everybody may select whatever they desire.

RED CROSS BENEFIT

The British Red Cross society will give a benefit card party on Friday evening, November 24, at the home of Mrs. Arthur D. Smith, 110 South Louise street. Progressive five hundred will be played; 25 cents each player. Anyone desiring invitations will kindly telephone to the treasurer, Miss Ina Whitaker, Glendale 586-J, or to Mrs. Helen I. Campbell, Glendale 102-J. There was a good attendance at the meeting of the society on Monday, when Mrs. George Eley was hostess, and tea was served. The ladies are desirous of all the linen donations possible, for the making of bandages, etc.

GERMAN U-BOAT IN PACIFIC

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT ISSUES WARNING TO SHIPS TO BEWARE OF TEUTON WAR VESSEL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 16.—A warning has been issued by the Canadian government that a German submarine has been operating off the Pacific coast. The Inya Maru, a Japanese ship, on receiving this warning, doused her lights and changed her course, hugging the shore until she reached Victoria.

K. Mizutani, director of the Yamato company, said that he considered the presence of a German submarine in the Pacific probable. He said the boat might easily be brought to the Pacific in parts and assembled at one of the sparsely inhabited islands without attracting attention.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Nov. 16.—Violently battling to regain lost territory, the French again occupy the village of Pressoire, which was yesterday partly occupied by the Germans. When it seemed that the city was lost, the French, with renewed effort, continued the attack and succeeded in winning back the slight advance won by the enemy.

LOYALTY TO GLENDALE

UNITE IN EFFORTS TO BUILD UP LOCALITY—HOME PRIDE WILL DO IT

After almost four years of actual residence in Glendale, and having been, during those four years, in close touch with all that is best for this community, the editor of the Evening News has learned the importance of being loyal to the community interests. One individual working alone does not count for much when it comes to getting recognition from higher powers. It is the united effort of men that counts for something.

One by one the citizens of Glendale have been asking for a lower car fare to Los Angeles, and what attention has been paid to the request? Answer the question for yourself.

Let 8000 people step forward and all together demand a lower car fare and it will come, whether it be granted directly by the railway company or through the state railroad commission.

The majority of the citizens of Glendale has asked for an independent postoffice, and the request has been granted. Now, let all citizens unite in demanding that this independent postoffice be managed by a capable postmaster, and that the building and equipment be in keeping with the population of the community. These things, if asked for by a united people, will be granted. Other cities are looking after their local interests and why should not Glendale do the same? It would be surprising if some one will not rise up at the eleventh hour and declare that it is best to keep the Glendale postoffice subordinate to the Los Angeles office. There is always some one ready to oppose real progress. This has been the history of the world.

MUSIC SECTION MEETS

The music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club met at the home of the curator, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, on Friday, Nov. 10. Mrs. Kinney introduced Mrs. Ethel Graham Lynde, a well known authority in musical matters, who will be the instructress of the section this year. The subject being covered is opera. Beginning at the period of the music of the early church, touching lightly upon successive states and stages of the development of music, the section was introduced to the efforts of the olden masters; to the monk, Hucbald, in his trials to establish harmony on more scientific lines—in 840 to 930—after a period of Gregorian chant music.

Next, a brief summary of the song of the early troubadours to the time of Monteverde, 1567-1643. His marvelous contribution to the musical world was explained and then we were led to the period when a body of earnest students formed what was known as the Camerata, a select few, who believed that music and literature were inseparable from each other in finding fullest expression of perfection. They engaged the finest writer and the finest composer of the day to unite in effort and the first opera, a Greek drama with musical settings, was presented to the world of music. From this period, the section begins its studies.

All former members and as many new ones as care to join, or rejoin the section are urged to attend these meetings, which are given the second and fourth Fridays of the month. All club members can become members of the music section upon payment of one dollar yearly dues. Mrs. Lynde's charming personality, wonderful manner of expression and undisputed authorty on this subject of music, makes this a rare opportunity for lovers and students of music.

SOPHOMORE GIRLS PRESENT PLAY—FIRST OF INTER-CLASS DEBATES

"Surprised" was the title of a sketch which twice thrilled an audience of students in the auditorium yesterday. The occasion was a contest between two of Miss Terry's oral English classes, both composed of sophomore girls.

Each cast gave its own interpretation of the comedy, and it was interesting to compare the work of the young actresses. For the most part it was their first appearance on the stage, and taking this into account, both performances were very well done.

After the show it was announced that cast No. 2 had won the contest.

Cast 1

Miss Letitia Bean	Cora Butterfield
Mrs. Flipperskin	Cecelia Lyons
Mrs. Sourby	Geneva Martin
Mrs. Greenly	Grace Carson
Mrs. Flower	Mildred McKee
Gracie	Bessie Carney
Miss Sweeting	Ivy Mills
Mrs. Jones	Doris Latter

Cast 2

Miss Bean	Merva Scott
Miss Flipperskin	Leone Bryce
Mrs. Sourby	Alice Green
Mrs. Greenly	Edna Van Batten
Mrs. Flower	Ruth Spafford
Gracie	Gladys Nofziger
Miss Sweeting	Jean Anderson
Mrs. Jones	Lucia Wagner

As the result of the first inter-class debates held yesterday afternoon the juniors and sophomores are scheduled to meet for the championship Friday. The juniors won from the seniors by default. The sophomore team defeated the freshmen team in simultaneous debates in the auditorium and lecture room, gaining the decision of five of the six judges.

In the auditorium, before an enthusiastic audience, David Johnston and Chauncy Kolts for the sophomores upheld the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, That the United States should further restrict immigration." Steven Beebe and Stanley Creswell spoke on the negative for the freshmen. William Gower presided.

In the lecture room the freshman affirmative team, Margaret Hutson and Guy Bennett, opposed the sophomore negative team, Merva Scott and James McClusky. Frank Balthis, president of the freshman class, presided. The judges of the debates were Miss Terry, Miss Eggert, Miss Goldthwaite and Mr. Sawyer of the high school and Miss White and Miss Midcalf of the intermediate.

While the speeches of the young debaters did not equal the arguments of professional lawyers, they were very creditable. The debates merited the attendance of larger audiences than were present. It was especially interesting to see one of the diminutive freshmen "put one over." And they did it, too, with surprising ease. Indeed, the wits of the sophomores were more than once taxed in rebuttal to meet some of the solid arguments advanced.

Much credit is due Mr. Root, debating coach, for his efforts in making this contest a success. Mr. Root is always on the job, urging participation in the various literary events, and bearing their many burdens.

The championship debates will be held Friday at 9 o'clock. In the auditorium Harland Durand and Herbert Scheuner will meet David Johnston and Chauncy Kolts. In the east study Berna Martin and Marion Lehman will meet Merva Scott and James McClusky.

CHILD DEVELOPMENT

At the regular weekly meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading circle yesterday the reading of "Studies in Child Development" was continued. The mental development of children from 2 to 7 years was the special topic. Avenues of approach to the child's mind, language as a sign of brain development, play as a factor in mental development, why a child plays, instincts and school life were thoroughly discussed by the author and by the members. At the next meeting "The Physical Development of the Child from Seven to Twelve Years" will be the topic.

Those present yesterday were Mesdames John H. Foley of Los Angeles, C. L. Jackson, S. G. Wright, Miss Ada Geis, Mesdames A. M. Beamon, G. J. Blech, R. T. Burr, C. M. Brubaker, James Campbell of Pasadena, G. F. Dewey, Harry Duey, A. M. Dunlop, H. H. Faries, Vernon Hall, H. V. Henry, W. R. Heustis, H. B. Howeth, N. C. Kelley, W. Kohl of Tropico, O. C. Logan, Ernest McConnell, Cora M. Nichol, O. H. Ormsby, M. E. Plasterer, C. E. Rathbone, F. T. Salter, T. W. Sampson, J. H. Southard, A. P. Knight and the hostess, Mrs. Charles H. Toll.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1916

A GOOD CHARACTER MALIGNED.

A slandered reputation has been redeemed in investigations recently made by the University of California. The Roadrunner, a picturesque bird which can run as fast as a horse, has heretofore been accused of destroying the eggs and young of the quail. Dr. Harold C. Bryant, ornithologist, has made an exhaustive study of the roadrunner and has rescued the reputation of this interesting bird.

Eighty-four stomachs of roadrunners were col'ected in Southern California during eleven months for the California Fish and Game commission and the contents examined by Dr. Bryant. The search and extensive inquiry failed to disclose any evidence that the roadrunner destroyed the eggs of other birds. It was found that 90 per cent of the contents of these eighty-four stomachs was insects and other animal matter and only ten per cent vegetable matter nearly all being fruit and seeds of the sour berry and cactus. Grasshoppers and crickets made up 37 per cent of the food; beetles 18 and cutworms and caterpillars 7 per cent with lesser quantities of cicadas, ants, bees, and wasps while scorpions made up nearly 4 per cent of the food. Spiders, centipedes and tarantulas had also been devoured.

It takes nearly two quarts a week to satisfy a roadrunner's appetite. Astonishing feats of swallowing are accomplished by this bird. It destroys more hairy caterpillars than any other California bird. One examinedhad swallowed a horned toad an inch wide; another had devoured four full-sized lizards, another a garter snake and still another several baby rattlesnakes.

A thorny shrub or cactus is the home of this peculiar bird. It has a range of many miles. The roadrunners in California are comparatively few in number and are rarely seen near the haunts of man. In the early days of California these birds were often seen about the house and gardens and made a most interesting pet. Now since the roadrunner has been found to be a friend and not an enemy to man it should be protected carefully.

QUARANTINE BODY LOUSE

Numerous insects and animals have long been known to be carriers of disease, but it has remained for the California State Board of Health to proclaim the unmentionable Pediculus Vestimenti or body louse a menace to public health. While this little insect has never been very popular, it has only recently become known that it transmits typhoid fever. Twenty-five cases were brought into this country from Mexico by this means, and the Board of Health has recently ordered quarantined any persons or premises known to be infected with this pest, until complete delousing has been accomplished.

In addition local health authorities are authorized to quarantine premises so infested, placarding same with a sign that reads, "PEDICULOSIS." No doubt so high-sounding an appellation would go very far toward alleviating the distress connected with the affliction.

However, it is very essential that extreme precautions be taken to prevent the spread of typhoid because of the fact that epidemics of typhus rise suddenly, usually affecting large numbers of persons within a short time.

SUPPORT THE CAUSE AND NOT THE MAN

A worthy cause is deserving of the support of all persons who believe in making better the general conditions of affairs. There is a tendency on the part of some people to judge the merits of a cause by the lives of a few of the people who are leading supporters of that cause.

The Christian church is a great institution, and it is a power for good in the world. The principles for which a church stands cannot always be judged by the daily actions of a few of the active members.

The temperance cause is a cause that is worthy of the support of every good citizen, and yet there are so-called temperance workers whose every day actions are not in keeping with their prayers and public proclamations.

There is scarcely an organization or institution that is free from members who are faultless, but the principles which that organization or institution represents are the vital questions for consideration.

No good cause should be condemned on account of a few supporters who are false to themselves and the world.

FAVOR POPULARITY.

The desire to be popular takes away from some people their natural characteristics. The young child who has not learned the artful way of the world is always true to self, and indicates that by every smile and act.

When a boy or girl becomes of that age that he or she ceases to act as a child there is a lack of naturalness which at times becomes annoying to others.

The desire to gain popularity on the part of men and women is the cause of their doing what they otherwise would not do.

There is a tendency for people to do much for effect in this world. It is to be regretted that there is a lack of genuineness in life. A polite bow too often is merely a form of etiquette, and what seems like a pleasant smile may be a token of deception.

In enumerating the beneficial effects of the mobilization of the national guardsmen on the Mexican boundary, some one has mentioned the educational advantage. It is said that every one of the more than a hundred thousand militiamen will go home with a clearer knowledge of a new section of our country and with a fuller understanding of the situation in Mexico and the relationship of the two countries.

ABOUT WASHING DISHES

Much is heard nowadays about efficiency in business—and of late—of efficiency in the home. As business men are exploiting efficient methods for business men, so are household magazines giving space to time-saving and labor-saving suggestions for the housewife. Dr. H. Barnard thoroughly discusses the subject of dishwashing in a recent issue of Table Talk, and claims that the average housekeeper can save from one to two hours a week by saving up soiled dishes and washing them but once a day. In discussing the subject he says that piles of dishes waiting to be washed three times a day, year in and year out, throw a damper over the finest ambitions of any housekeeper. If only the drudgery of dishwashing could be reduced, kitchen work would be in greater demand. Many careful housekeepers will perhaps resent the suggestion that once a day is often enough to wash dishes, but as a matter of fact, both time and energy are saved by cutting out two of the three dishwashing jobs. Here is the result of one housekeeper who actually dared study the homely work of washing dishes. One week she washed her dishes 21 times. The next week she washed dishes seven times. During the two weeks she planned her meals so that practically the same number of dishes would be used each day. She found that while it took 55 minutes a day to wash her dishes three times a day, it took but forty minutes a day when she washed them but once.

Her experience convinced her that time is saved by washing dishes once a day. She took no account of interruption of other duties caused by the usual routine; nor did not estimate the amount of gas and fuel saved by heating water to boiling but once instead of three times, to say nothing of soap saved.

True, she did not count the clutter and untidiness incident to a lot of soiled dishes stacked in the kitchen; but neither did she count the chances of persuading the "man of the house" into wiping the dishes of an evening, thereby cutting down nearly half the time ordinarily spent at this work.

After all, however, it is a matter which housewives must determine for themselves.

"If the springs did not well up continually, year in and year out, the rivers could not run deep and wide to the sea. The sources are the important things; everything else results from them. 'Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life.'"

NEW YORK GROWER

The following letter has been received by the Glendale Garden society, whose influence and scope of work is rapidly spreading abroad:
Glendale Garden Society,

Gentlemen.—Having seen your name in the Florists' Exchange Magazine, I thought I would write you for information. I beg to say I make a living growing French endives, a salad produced by forcing chicory roots into a second growth. The seed is grown in Belgium. The war has shut off my supply. So I want to get someone in California to grow me a supply by the last of next June. I can furnish 500 nice roots and will pay a good price for the seed. These roots look like parsnips or carrots and produce as much or more seed per plant. I cannot get seed by June 25 in this climate. It would be nice work for schools or young people. The flowers are pretty and interesting, as their habits are singular.

If you could help me out, or get me in touch with anyone else that I may be able to get seed for planting next year, I would be pleased to hear from you.

Yours truly,
R. W. B.
Odessa, New York.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S BRANCH

The Young People's Branch of the W. C. T. U. held a very profitable meeting at the home of Mrs. G. H. Rowe, 516 Orange street, Tuesday evening. Plans were discussed for work in the various channels of the society. A campaign for new members was outlined, and committees appointed. Three new members were received and duly initated. The field for work along this line among the young people is great, as the organization stands for the highest moral and social purity. There is a regular course of study to be pursued by members of the branch, to be directed by able instructors. An earnest appeal is made to all good, loyal, Christian citizens of Glendale and vicinity to do all in your power to help these earnest young people. From this source comes our future men and women and they need your encouragement.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE.

ENJOYABLE LUNCHEON

The luncheon of the Los Angeles City Planning association, held yesterday at the Wistaria, Los Angeles, was attended by 23 earnest workers, Mrs. Nanno Woods being present as a guest. Burr Jones, deputy horticultural commissioner, spoke on his duty of "keeping the trees clean." Theodore Payne delivered a very carefully prepared and comprehensive talk on street trees.

Dr. L. Clarke, as chairman, introduced the principal speaker, Meyer Lissner, who gave an absorbingly interesting account of the legal aspects, and the cost, of maintaining parkings and trees along the city streets. Colonel Lehe also contributed his expert knowledge in the line of shrub and tree planting on school grounds.

THE FOOTHILLS

Under the cloudless blue they lie,
Golden hills in the golden sun;
Rising up to the mountains high,
Reaching down where the rivers run.
Smooth and bright as a beaten strand,
Fresh and strange as an unsailed sea,
Billowing out on either hand,
Sweet with a magical witchery.

Up to the springs of youth they lead,
Under the edge of the purple pines;
Ways untainted by toil or greed,
Paths where peace in its fullness shines;
Winds of healing above them pass,
Free and fresh in their stainless might;
Golden ripples the mountain grass,
Golden stretches the boundless light.

Oh, to be there where the foothills rise,
Far away from the homes of men!
Oh, to be where the foothills rise,
Up to their glorious slopes again!
All day long my feet must fare
Over the paths by toilers trod,
But, oh, to kneel on that altar stair
Lifted up by the hills of God!

—MABEL EARLE.

This will not be a public hearing, but Congressman Randall will hear everyone individually. No choice has yet been made even tentatively, and petitions will have little value. A few months ago there appeared an appeal in our home paper, an appeal to which Mr. Cowan generously gave publicity. The people of Glendale were asked to assist in furnishing work for High School Students so they might either resume or finish Their Education. The matter was considered of so much importance that The High School P.-T. A. appointed a committee of Business and Professional men and women to find means, if possible, whereby employment might be secured.

I have taken it upon myself at this time to not only furnish work, but to actually make it possible for two or three students to complete Their Education. In doing this I ask The Hearty Co-operation of all Glendale people for a short time only. I believe I will get it. I believe The People of our city and vicinity will lend a helping hand and assist some worthy Boy or Girl in getting The Right Start in Life. I do not wish you to believe that I am trying to force or induce anyone to change their place of trading, for such is not my desire. You are placing yourself under no obligation to me whatever, only to The Extent in which you wish to assist some candidate. My prices always have been, are now, and always will be, just as low, quality considered, as any reputable grocer can sell you. The coupons the candidates will offer you are worth their face value and will be so redeemed whenever presented. You may phone your order and the delivery will be prompt and absolutely free.

AT THIS TIME

I want to express my appreciation, and announce to the people of Glendale that Miss Veysey of The Glendale Commercial School not anticipating, but actually knowing The Crying Needs of some of the students has already helped to make this campaign a success by generously donating the same as $25.00 in prizes. The value of a scholarship prize is not to be computed in Dollars and Cents, but to show the interest This Lady has taken in the Young People of Glendale it is well to state that a

Six Months' Scholarship Costs	$50.00	A Three Months' Scholarship Costs	$25.00
Materials Needed	$ 5.00	Materials Needed	$ 5.00
Total Cost	$55.00	Total Cost	$30.00

But to assist some Boy or Girl who cannot otherwise acquire a Business Education and desiring to render service in every way possible, Miss Veysey has generously consented to place two scholarships in this campaign at an equal cost to the first and second cash prize. That is, she is making it possible for me to offer a better prize than I could otherwise, and at the same time giving some of our young Boys and Girls a chance to acquire educations that will undoubtedly mean the turning point to them in their young lives.

LA CRESCENTA

For the benefit of the club house fund, the La Crescenta Women's club will serve a cafeteria dinner at the Crescenta school house from 6 to 8 o'clock next Tuesday evening. Come, Mr. and Mrs. Everybody, bring your fathers and mothers, sisters and brothers with their sweethearts and friends. Come, bring your pocketbook and appetite, too, that you may enjoy our chicken stew, Boston baked beans, brown bread and salads you may eat as you listen to music and ballads. Of hot coffee, ice cream and cake we will also ask you to partake. Come and show us you are wide-awake to the need of this club house for the valley's sake. Usual cafeteria prices.

Word has been received that M. S. Gordon, who has been living for the past year at Palm Springs, is planning to make a short stay at his home here in the near future.

The La Crescenta school children enjoyed a day's holiday last Monday, when it was decided by the school board to give the teachers, Miss Jones and Miss Hough, a leave of absence to visit other schools. Miss Jones made a visit to the La Canada school and a few of the Glendale schools, Miss Hough taking in many of the Los Angeles grammar schools.

D. E. Wetherbe traded his Buick truck last week for a four-year-old colt which he intends to use on his ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bissell left last Tuesday for their long-planned trip East. Mr. and Mrs. Bissell will first visit Mr. Bissell's mother in Detroit, Mich., and later make a short stay in New York and return to their home here about the first of January.

Under the leadership of Mr. Chambers, Mrs. John Leenhouts and Mrs. Lewenstein, the band is rapidly organizing and subscription funds are being donated. Some of the musical instruments have been given and a great many people have offered their assistance in the promotion of the band, but as the running expenses will be quite heavy at first, the residents of the community are asked to assist in the organization of the La Crescenta band every way possible.

The next meeting of the La Crescenta Improvement association will be held Friday, December 1, at 8 p. m. All residents interested in the welfare of the valley are urged to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Dickison of Los Angeles made a short visit at her place in La Crescenta last Monday.

Quite a thrill was encountered by the passengers aboard the 4:35 P. E. car coming from Glendale last Monday evening, when the front trucks of the car left the track near Verdugo Park. The car was running over a short stretch of temporary track where the road was being constructed, when one of the rails spread, allowing the front trucks to slide off. With the help of the electric freight and a small steam locomotive, the car was soon pulled back on the tracks and traffic was resumed again, with only an hour's loss of time.

Mayfield avenue, from Los Angeles avenue east about 1000 feet, has been regraded this week by the county road department.

Mr. and Mrs. Walbridge and family, tenants of the Dyer place, are preparing to return to their former home in Los Angeles in a short time.

Mrs. Harold Groton pleasantly entertained about twenty-five members of the La Crescenta Women's club last Wednesday at her home on Mayfield avenue. Officers for the coming election were nominated and two committees of five each were appointed by the president to find ways and means of raising money for the club house fund. A basket, donated by Mrs. E. F. Archer, had been filled by the members with handwork, some of which was sold, thus adding a few dollars to the fund. After the business was dispatched two musical numbers, rendered by Mrs. Lee, a sister of the hostess, were enjoyed greatly. Dainty refreshments were passed and the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Katherine Gray the second Wednesday in December.

Mrs. William Fahey has been called to San Francisco by the death of her brother, P. W. Fahey. Her stay will probably be prolonged until the latter part of next week.

Mr. Russell has been busy renovating the house of A. Bertrand on Prospect avenue for the past week.

Mrs. John Leenhouts left last week for a short visit with friends in San Diego. While in San Diego, Mrs. Leenhouts will enjoy the sights of the exposition.

Mrs. Joe Hawkins was a week-end guest of her sister, Mrs. Tollan, of Los Angeles.

S. E. Levy left last week for Arizona to attend to his several mining claims there.

Ted Hopping motored with Miss Lucile Levy in his big touring car, on her first trip to Sunland Tuesday afternoon, where they had a delightful time as the guests of Miss Lois Percey.

Miss Lucile Levy spent the week-end in Los Angeles with friends, returning with Miss Winifred Lentz, who was her guest Sunday.

Miss Mary Begue and Mrs. Ed Thomas gave a kitchen shower at the Begue home, El Descanso, in honor of Miss Meta Scheuner, the charming bride-elect of La Crescenta, last Saturday evening. The evening was delightfully spent with games and music, after which refreshments were served. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Scheuner, Herbert Scheuner, Paul Krauter, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thomas, Mrs. E. Puisiguer, Charles Puisiguer, Miss Eno Begue, Mr. Ebee, Otto Felhaber, Robert Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Begue, Miss Josephine Begue, Philip Begue, Jr., Frank Begue, Bert Begue, and the hostess, Miss Mary Begue.

Jack Ronsee has been trying out his newly purchased racer on our local highways recently.

TUJUNGA

Miss Selma Zahl of Los Angeles was the guest last Sunday of Miss Helen Green of Pine street. Sunday evening, at the Federation service, Miss Zahl, who is the possessor of a beautiful soprano voice, rendered Dudley Buck's "Fear Not Ye, Oh Israel."

Mr. and Mrs. Hartranft and Mrs. Hartranft's sister motored over from Lazy Lonesome Rancho to Tujunga Thursday evening to patronize the supper and bazaar of the Episcopal guild.

Miss Adams of the district attorney's office was the guest from Thursday evening of last week till Friday morning of Mrs. Mehard, who also holds a responsible position in the same department.

Mrs. Dora Morris of Sunset boulevard received the sad news the first of the week from her nephew who lives at 2800 North Main street, Los Angeles, of the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jobe, of Los Angeles. Mrs. Jobe met with a terrible accident last Saturday. She had been cleaning and renovating some clothing with gasoline and had been very careful to conduct the process out of doors, but came into the house to light a fire and it seems that the fumes clinging to her clothing ignited and in a moment she was in flames. She was taken at once to the hospital and everything done to relieve her suffering but she was too badly burned, and succumbed Sunday morning at 11:30 o'clock. Burial took place at Turlock.

The Puritan supper and bazaar of the Episcopal guild, Thursday evening of last week was a decided success, financially and socially. A very good supper was provided under the management of Mrs. Shaner, for 25 cents, and was well patronized by the people of the community. The booths providing wearing apparel and candy did a thriving business, and the prizes in the fish pond were all disposed of long before the close of the evening. The band, led by Miss Dorothy Maygrove, furnished appropriate music for the occasion. The waitresses and attendants were attractively costumed in Puritan caps and neck-kerchiefs and aprons, adding much to the enjoyment of the affair. The amount taken in, with several donations, approximated $75. One little boy from New York, who signed himself "Martin" donated $2. The ladies of the guild are well pleased with the results of the evening.

Mrs. Slavinsky delivered a very interesting address before the Woman's club at Bolton hall, at their regular meeting last week. Her topic was "The Education of Women Abroad." Mrs. Slavinsky has been a teacher herself, both in her native country, France, and in London, England. She spoke more especially of the education of her own countrywomen. She told of the methods employed, the utter ignorance of girls, even after they have reached maturity, of the knowledge and mystery of life. They are kept very close, never going abroad without a chaperone; especially is this true of the upper classes. They are taught absolute obedience to and reverence for their elders. If more of this quality could be instilled into the process of the training of our youth it would be an excellent thing. In France a woman does not attain her independence till she is married; then all the barriers are removed, often with disastrous results, because of her ignorance of how to use her liberty aright. If the women of European countries could have a portion of our freedom and our regime would incorporate some of the restrictions of their system, perhaps a happy medium could be reached with benefit to all. Mrs. Slavinsky is very much interested in the welface and civic improvement of Tujunga. She and her husband, with their little daughter, have established a home on North Pine street. Mr. Slavinsky is an educated Polish gentleman and writer and a very interesting man to meet.

Miss H. L. McKee motored over from Pasadena last week in time to cast her vote. She expects to be home in a short time at her place on San Ysidro road.

At the town meeting Tuesday night there was but a small attendance on account of the high winds prevailing that evening. Mr. Ashby, who is the president of the Foothills Valley federation, gave an interesting report of the meeting of the federation, which was held at Sunland Monday evening. Supervisor-elect Dodge was present and said many encouraging things and evinced his willingness to use his influence to help get the necessary bridges built in this vicinity before we can have the completion of the highway.

The Friday Morning Round Table met last week on the spacious veranda of Mrs. Brissenden's home. The book, "Christianity and the Social Crisis," which the society is studying, arouses much interesting discussion and many important points are brought out. The Round Table meets this week, if the weather is fair, at the home of Mrs. Leo L. Lang, corner of Monte Vista boulevard and Haines Canyon road. Should the weather be stormy, the meeting will be at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Woodruff, on El Centro avenue.

The French class is progressing in its studies. The regular time for meeting is Saturday morning from 9 to 10 for children and 10 to 11 for adults. Some of the students meet for conversational practice on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Brissenden on San Ysidro road. The hour is 7 o'clock.

Word reached friends here the first of the week of the death of Mr. Lyman Maxwell, Sr., at his old home in Illinois. Mrs. Maxwell and daughter, Miss Louise, were with him in his last hours. The family were among the early settlers of this village. We are without further particulars of Mr. Maxwell's death.

The senior members of the Colonial club were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Fischer, ably assisted by Mr. and Mrs. David Costello and Mr. and Mrs. Norman T. Bell, in the feed store on Hallowe'en. The affair was given in honor of Mrs. Fischer's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Curtin, who recently came to Tujunga from Watertown, N. Y. The store was decorated as a circus and guests were in costume and masked. Miss Benedict, dressed elaborately as a "culled pusson," won ladies' prize and Mr. Bell, as a pipe-smoking, red-whiskered Irishman, won the gentlemen's prize. Dancing was indulged in until a late hour. Mrs. Bernhard Zachau, garbed as Madame Butterfly, gave some very amusing imitations.

The party then motored to Los Angeles, and Miss Green entertained at the Morosco with a matinee party. After the matinee the party enjoyed a dinner at the Chocolate Shop. Those who composed the bridal party were Mrs. Max Green, the Misses Rowena and Lulu Green, Helen Cooper, Helen Kendall, Harriet and Lulu Lanterman, Katheryne Green and the bride-elect.

The cement has been put on Roy avenue and it will soon be ready for the finishing touches. The cement is also being spread on Texas street. Soon these streets will be beautifully paved streets, helping to add to the valley.

Dr. Scott will talk on "The Lord's Prayer" Sunday morning. The C. E. will hold their regular meeting at the appointed hour, 6:30. Let everyone attend these services.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Metcalf and son, David, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Colburn of Los Angeles. As most people remember, Mr. and Mrs. Colburn were former residents of the valley.

The first quarterly meeting of the Foothill Valley federation was held last Monday evening, November 13, at Sunland. The attendance was good and the several districts were well represented. Messrs. Jewett, Williams, Johnson, Cooper, Granger and Brooks, also Mrs. Granger and daughter and Mrs. Brooks from La Canada were present. A very attractive feature of the meeting was the music furnished by the band, composed of twenty-five young men and women of Sunland and Tujunga, with new uniforms and new instruments. The leader is R. Walter Maygood, a musical teacher of unusual ability. The music was highly entertaining. The band has been organized over a year and a half. The young people of La Crescenta are to have a band under Mr. Maygood's leadership and instruction. By joining this company, the musicians of La Crescenta could obtain the drill and have a band of our own or an orchestra.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Percy, president of the chamber of commerce in Sunland, who gave an address of welcome and then introduced the new president of the federation, Mr. Ashby, postmaster in Tujunga. He made appropriate remarks on the general outlook in our foothill valley and recommended that eight standing committees, each composed of five members, be appointed to take charge of the work of the federation, and that each district be represented by two chairman. This recommendation was heartily adopted and the president was requested to make the appointments. These committees will have charge of the following departments: Legislation, finance, publicity, flood control, highways and bridges, parks and forestation, transportation and communication. A resolution was offered by Mr. Granger, and adopted by the federation, recommending that a communication be sent to President Wilson requesting that he limit the exportation of food supplies. Representatives of the different places were called on for remarks. The treasurer reported that there are $6 in the treasury; no expense. The next meeting of the federation will be held the second Monday of February in La Canada. After refreshments provided by the chamber of commerce in Sunland, Miss Dorothy Maygood delighted the audience with a flute solo, accompanied by her father on the organ.

One of the principal addresses of the evening was given by Mr. Prince, an attractive speaker, who occupies the position of cashier in the bank at San Fernando. He urged the people to do all in their power to promote harmony, to work together, to lay aside unpleasant feelings, to forget ourselves, to work in a broad-minded way for the up-building of these communities.

The newly-elected supervisor, Mr. Dodge, was present and gave the second address. He emphasized the importance of making the best of our natural advantages. He spoke of the park and the band as very valuable assets in Sunland. He favored the completion of the state highway, reforestation and the planting of trees along our streets and boulevards, and the improvement of all our sites for parks. He pledged himself to do all in his power for the people in these foothill districts. After further music from the band and social greetings, the meeting adjourned.

The new movement is certainly in line with the best developments of our time whcih make for unity and mutual aid, the highest principle of social life. The old fences and partition walls are rapidly falling down. We are coming to realize more and more that the sky is the roof of but one family and that the normal type of social life and of civilization is based on brotherhood and good will to men. The men and women in our communities who show no public spirit, who live for self aggrandisement at the expense of others are to be regarded more and more with disapproval. Selfish ambition to get to the top of the heap financially, to build one's nest on high and feather it with down regardless of the needs and rights of others is yet to give place to unselfish aspirations to make the most of oneself and one's resources for the good of society.

TWO GREAT QUALITIES

There are two qualities in human nature that need to be cultivated by everyone. These qualities are unselfishness and self control. Unselfishness would end all monopoly. Self control would enable every individual to direct his mental and physical energies toward the best uses of life for himself and humanity.

OUR LIVES

Our lives are waves that come up out of the ocean of eternity, break upon the beach of earth and lapse back to the ocean of eternity. Some are sunlit, some run in storm and rain; one is a quiet ripple, another is a thunderous breaker, and once in many centuries comes a great tidal wave that sweeps over a continent, but all go back to the sea and lie equally level there.—Austin O'Malley.

CHARACTER

A man who lives right and is right has more power in his silence than another has by his words. Character is like bells, which when touched, even accidentally, resound with sweet music.—Phillips Brooks.

THE STILL, SMALL VOICE

"It is not what men say or do that decides what is good or bad," Tolstoy wrote, "but my own heart."
